

V.Mallika

Ms.V.Mallika is working as an Assistant Professor in Economics at Lady Doak College, Madurai, Tamil Nadu. She Worked as a Guest Lecturer in School of Economics, Madurai Kamaraj University, and Madurai. She handled M.Sc., Mathematical Economics course and M.A., Economics course in Madurai Kamaraj University during the period from August 2008 to March 2010. She handled Statistical Methods, Mathematical Economics and Economic Reforms for M.A and M.Sc Courses and also she handled Statistics, Basic Econometrics and Agricultural Economics for M.Sc (Mathematical Economics) Course. Now she has been handling Mathematical Economics, Econometrics, Economic Statistics, Managerial Economics, Public Economics, and Indian Economy for UG courses. She has published five articles in National level journals and she has been presented and participated in national and state level seminars in various colleges/ Institutions. She did her under graduation in Economics, Post-graduation in Mathematical Economics and M.Phil in Economics. At present she has been doing her doctoral degree in the topic entitled "An Economic Analysis of Sexually Transmitted Diseases in Tamil Nadu with special reference to Madurai District".